

Guidance for Remote Access to EH&S Training Courses

Thank you for your interest in the Environmental Health and Safety Learning Center as a resource for safety training. EH&S offers safety training to companies or groups affiliated with Iowa State University through our Remote Access Program. Participation in the program includes the following options:

Online Training

- Employees create an account in the EH&S Learning Center and receive 24-7 access to Environmental Health and Safety online training courses for $50 per course.
- Individual employees may access their personal training history through the EH&S website. In addition, one individual from your company may be designated to view the training history of your employees participating in our program.
- Your company will be billed using the ISU Account Number you provide. For details on setting up an account, if you do not have one, please contact EH&S at 294-5359.

Classroom Training

- Employees may register online for EH&S regularly scheduled classroom training sessions for the fee of $50 per person per classroom course. (Some courses have a higher fee due to the length of the course; contact EH&S at 294-5359 for information on course exceptions.)
- A classroom charge is made when course attendance is recorded. (A 24 hour cancellation policy is required to avoid charges.) Your company will be billed using the ISU Account Number you provide.
- Specially scheduled classes for your company can be arranged through the Training Coordinator at 294-5359, with charges determined by the class length.

If you have questions, or need additional information about our Remote Access Program, please contact the Training and Communications Program, 294-5359.

We look forward to providing safety training for your employees!
